

Authors of Dolphins & Whales Forever

Jean-Luc Bozzoli - In 1975 on a boat in the South Pacific, a dolphin was making sounds under the hull, for a week before sunrise. But by the time I got to the deck, he/she was swimming away ... I did not realize then but at that time, in my paintings appeared underwater crystal scenes. A few years later, I was in New-Zealand and Australia painting dolphins and whales with colorful geometric partners: these always were present in my youth even during school day dreaming. Sixty years later, my imagination is still larger than my identity ... as there are many Universes and many Earths, parallel to each other ... worlds where people live inside their bodies and worlds where Dolphins, Whales and infinite types of Beings communicate and expand their energies into colors and organic geometries.
